

Australian International Documentary Conference 2023

First Peoples Pass Giveaway

Information Sheet

About this initiative

VicScreen is offering a limited number of All Access conference passes to First Peoples who are based in Victoria to attend the Australian International Documentary Conference (AIDC).

AIDC is Australia's premier event for documentary, factual and unscripted screen content. The 2023 program will feature a four-day marketplace, forum and screening program. AIDC attracts a diverse mix of broadcasters, storytellers, entrepreneurs and documentary fans from Australia, the Asia-Pacific and beyond.

Before applying

- Check the eligibility and assessment criteria
- Read these guidelines and the Terms of Trade which set out the core terms on which VicScreen conducts its business. Terms underlined in green appear in the website glossary
- Read VicScreen's Gender & Diversity Statement. VicScreen is committed to promoting and supporting gender equality, diversity and inclusiveness
- Review the online application form
- Contact Kate Darrigan, Industry and Skills Development Coordinator with any questions.

Eligibility

This initiative is open to First Peoples of Australia producers, writers and/or directors who are living in Victoria and have clear objectives for how attending the conference will advance their career and/or projects.

Assessment Criteria

- How attending will benefit the applicant's career and/or projects
- Strength of the candidate's stated objectives for attending AIDC
- VicScreen's overall objectives of diversity and inclusiveness.

Important dates - UPDATED

- Deadline for applications is 11pm on 16 February 2023
- Applicants notified of outcome by 23 February 2023

- AIDC will take place 5 - 8 March 2023

Assessment process and timeline

Funding is competitive. When assessing applications, VicScreen will consider:

- How attending the conference will benefit the applicant's career and/or projects
- The strength of the candidate's stated objectives for attending AIDC
- VicScreen's overall objectives of diversity and inclusiveness.

Applicants will be advised of the application outcome within two weeks of the deadline.

Successful applicants

- Will be contacted by email confirming VicScreen's support and any relevant terms and conditions
- Will receive a four-day All Access Pass to the AIDC conference. This pass provides access to all AIDC sessions, professional development activities and networking opportunities.