

VICTORIAN SCREEN INCENTIVE

ANIMATION

Where is Anne Frank, Sweetshop & Green,
Samsa Film and Bridgit Folman Film Gang

Whether for the big screen, phone screen, TV or games, Victorian animation studios are breathing life into illustrated worlds.

The state of Victoria boasts a strong animation sector with multi award-winning animators and studios, who have the talent and capability to deliver world-class animation for film, series and digital games.

Melbourne has Australia's largest 2D animation studio and Adam Elliot made his Academy Award®-winning claymation short film Harvie Krumpet in Melbourne.

Join Nickelodeon, Cartoon Network, Disney, Amazon Prime and Warner Bros and experience the excitement of working with outstanding Victorian talent and businesses in one of the world's leading screen centres.

It's time to make it in Melbourne, Victoria.

The Victorian Screen Incentive (VSI) is a grant-based incentive that supports projects to undertake animation production in Victoria.

Is my project eligible?

To qualify, spend a minimum of AU$1 million on animation production for your project in Victoria.

Your project must be a film or series that is fully financed and has genuine marketplace interest for commercial release or distribution.

How much can I apply for?

Work with Victorian animation studios, and you can apply for a grant of up to 10% of your project's Qualifying Victorian Expenditure (QVE) that is paid upon project completion.

VSI can be combined with the Australian Screen Production Incentive through the PDV Offset, Location Offset, Location Incentive, Official Co-production and Producer Offset.
